ABOUT VAIL MOUNTAIN

THE LEGACY OF VAIL:

Vail was born from a dream and built with a vision. The same pioneering spirit with which we were founded and purposefully designed continues to propel us forward. Like our founders and the 10th Mountain Division that came before us, Vail is always innovating.

There's something about being in Vail that can't be put into words. Something that makes us surrender to being fully present. Something that disconnects us from our everyday, while reconnecting us with family, friends and parts of ourselves long forgotten. An energy that reminds us of what we live for, what we work for and what it's like to forget everything but the moment we're in. Vail puts us back in touch with our sense of awe and fills us with appreciation for being amazed, for being a part of something majestic and for just simply being. In Vail, a childlike sense of joy and wonder turns even the simplest moments into treasured memories. Vail is like nothing on earth.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Vail was named after Charles Vail, the Chief Engineer of the Colorado Highway Department, who cut a highway over the pass and into the valley.
- In preparation for WWII, the 10th Mountain Division, a division of the US Army trained on what is now Vail Mountain, and then called "No Name Mountain". They still train on Vail Mountain today.
- In 1957, 10th Mountain soldiers and Vail founders, Pete Seibert and Earl Eaton, took their first hike up No Name Mountain and peered out over the vast expanses to see what today has become Vail's legendary Back Bowls and Blue Sky Basin.
- When the ski resort opened in 1962, Vail had four houses and one telephone; the resort had five lifts and a gondola stretching from the base to the bowls on the backside.

EVER WONDER HOW VAIL TRAILS GOT THEIR NAMES?

New this winter, as you're skiing around Vail, learn about why trails got their name. One you'll find is Riva Ridge. One of Vail's first trails was named after a ridge in the Italian Apennines by Vail's founders, veterans of the 10th Mountain Division, who fought a decisive battle there during World War II. The glade was the first officially designated as such on the mountain.

VAIL TODAY:

Under blue skies more than 300 days each year, Vail is the world's premier mountain resort. The year-round alpine experience is exceptional, from the vast terrain and natural grandeur of the surrounding Gore and Sawatch Ranges to world-class events, shops and spas, and the abundant culinary options and luxurious accommodations that line the pedestrian-friendly streets of Vail and Lionshead Villages. Vail is where outdoor pursuits meet village sophistication. Offering more than 5,200 acres of developed ski and snowboard terrain including seven legendary Back Bowls in winter, and flourishing with new summer activities after the debut of Epic Discovery in 2016, the options for year-round adventure are endless. Coupled with the vision inherent in the spirit of Vail's founders, and an unbreakable commitment to excellence in all aspects of guest service and operations, Vail is like nothing on earth.

LEGACY DAYS: FEBRUARY 15-18, 2019

To celebrate the history of Vail and the innovations made, celebrations will ensue February 15-18, 2019. Re-live the first hike of our founders, join in a celebratory ski down, town parades and more as the community comes together to embrace the Legacy of Vail.
